A day in the life of a Queen

Hello! My name is Mary Love, known as Queen Mary.

I wake up at 7 o'clock every day. I drink a nice cup of tea in my bed and then I'm ready for a long bath. I have breakfast with my husband, King Jeremy. We usually eat a toast and drink orange juice. I start working at 9 o'clock until half past midday - yes, because the Queens also work. I usually have lunch in the palace at 1 o'clock with my family - my husband and my two sons. In the afternoon I visit schools and hospitals, because many people need my help. At half past five I usually talk to my secretary about my agenda for the next day.

In the evening I sometimes go to special dinners and make speeches to very important people. I get so tired every day that I always go to bed at 11 o'clock.
